BRION[11]

- Notes:
- [a] Presumably a regiment recruited in LIVERPOOL. However, "The LIVERPOOL Regiment" is also possible and, in the unlikely event of this being the correct interpretation, it might be a regiment with the word LIVERPOOL in the title is "The King's Regiment (LIVERPOOL)" or "The LIVERPOOL Scottish".
 - [b] Or "is handing over".
 - [c] "NASH RABOTNIK": presumably a member of a Soviet diplomatic or official mission, working for the GRU.
 - [d] This could be either the singular "a berth/the berth" or the plural "berths/the berths".
 - [e] Inserted by the translator.
